

CARLOS ACOSTA

I am a beginner software engineer with 6 months of experience programming. I am a hard-working student willing to learn, adapt, and improve my skills in engineering. I strive in a fast-paced work environment in part to my communication and critical thinking skills.

On 2013 I graduated University of Havana and gain "Informatic Engineer" degree. Since then, I have been working mostly on tourism and business field, but IT always was my passion.

I am confident and determined personality willing to work hard to reach my goals. Moreover, I am open minded, always dedicated to my work and have a passion for programming.
